EDUCATION

PHD IN POLITICAL SCIENCE TRINITY COLLEGE DUBLIN SINCE 9/2020

During the first two years, I collected 90 ECTS by completing modules on research design, qualitative research methods, interviewing, gender, political behavior, international conflict, politics in the Middle East, Hebrew language, research ethics, and two courses on quantitative research methods.

My dissertation Minorities and Military: The Effects of Military Conscription on Groups with Limited Access to Power is supervised by Dr. Jesse Dillon Savage. Using a mixed methods approach, I investigate the determinants of ethnicised and gendered conscription and its effects on the political and civic life of ethnic minorities and women.

My PhD is funded by TCD's Provost PhD Award. I also received the TRiSS Postgraduate Research Fellowship to finance fieldwork in Israel/Palestine during the summer of 2023.

I also served as a (head) teaching assistant throughout my entire PhD.

MA IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CHARLES UNIVERSITY PRAGUE 2014-2019

Completed with exam in IR theories, EU studies, International Law, and thesis defense of a dissertation titled The Israeli Druze: Military Service as a Tool to Influence Domestic and Foreign Policy (in Czech), supervised by Dr. Tomáš Kučera. The dissertation was awarded the M. R. Stefanik Prize for its contribution to study of security.

VISITING STUDENT UNIVERSITY OF HAIFA 2016-2017

Attended courses on Arab-Israeli conflict, Arab and Israeli literature, Arab culture, and daily Ulpan.

BA IN POLITICAL SCIENCE & EUROPEAN STUDIES PALACKY UNIVERSITY OLOMOUC 2011-2014

Completed with exam in Political Systems Analysis, EU Studies, Czech Politics, and thesis defense of a dissertation titled Changes of Czech Foreign Policy towards the State of Israel after joining the EU (in Czech), supervised by Dr. Daniel Marek.
